Longer Hours, New Equipment for Playground

The Narberth Community Playground will open for the summer on Monday, July 6. This season the grounds will be open until 8 P. M., with activities in the evening for the adults as well as the older children. The Recreation Board decided on this move, when they realized how many people visited the playground in the evening in search of recreation.

A new set of teeter totters will be installed, suitable for all ages. There will also be two large slides instead of one as in previous years. There will be sports of all kinds in the evening for those wishing to participate, such as tennis, basketball, volley ball, playground baseball, quoits, paddle tennis, lawn croquet and three new activities that are being added this year, "Quoitennis," obstacle golf and horseshoes.

A meeting of the Senior Playground Baseball League will be held on July 6, to lay out the rules and schedule for the coming season. The league is composed of four teams, the Cardinals, Midgets, Lucky Nine and Narbrook Park. Last year the Cardinals, captained by Paul Kane, nosed out the Midgets for the league championship and possession of the "Old 'Y' Cup."

The Junior Baseball League will meet on the same date. This league is composed of four teams: Eagles, John Burns, captain; Red Sox, Robert Kilian, captain; Park Team, Ray Nord-

Montgomery Ave. Business District Stricken from New Zoning Ordinance

Action by Committee of Whole Borough Council Kills
Proposed Major Changes; Reject Windsor Avenue Petition.

POLLS SHOW FOUR COUNCILMEN ARE OPPOSED

The proposed Montgomery Avenue business district was stricken from the revised Narberth Zoning Ordinance by action of the committee of the whole at the meeting of the Borough Council on Monday night. The petition to include Windsor Avenue and the extension of Essex, Forest and Narberth Avenues in the present Haverford Avenue business district was also rejected.

The new zoning ordinance, which included Montgomery Avenue from Narberth to Haverford Avenue as a fourth business district, was passed on first reading by Council at its meeting on April 13. This step was necessary to get it before Council and residents for purposes of discussion and consideration.

At the committee meeting of Council last Friday night it was found by an informal poll that four councilmen were opposed to the passage of the ordinance with the Montgomery Avenue business section included. A four-fifths vote would be necessary to pass the ordinance, so that only two dissenting votes could block it.

This action by Council follows a consideration of the subject over a period of seven months, it being first proposed in a petition presented to Council on November 10. On January 30 a public hearing was held on the petition to make a business zone on Montgomery Avenue, at which time a majority of residents present expressed themselves favorable to the change.

In accordance with the sentiment expressed at this meeting, Council prepared a revision of the Zoning Ordinance, including as the major change

Miss Baker said after hearing of the award that she had been working for the scholarship all this year, and that "now I have to pass the Bryn Mawr exams." The scholarship is good for tuition at the college.

GET TWENTY-SEVEN HITS

BY DAVE CASEY

The decline of the once invincible Narberth Ball Club continues apace. Last Saturday afternoon Danny Hemcher's rambunctious Redmen of Bryn Mawr administered another crushing defeat to the maltreated borough boys by a score of 10-6.

The game was featured by heavy hitting on the part of both teams, with a total of twenty-seven hits ringing out from the bats of the two teams. The Narberth boys hammered ten blows off the delivery of Charley Townsend, their old teammate, the leading wallops being resounding triples from the bats of Bob Gilfillan and Joe Rubican. The sudden revival of Narberth's hitting power was pleasing to Manager Davis and the fans but try as they might the Narberth batsmen were unable to match the work of the Bryn Mawr boys, who had little dif-

Plans for Annual 4th of July Celebration Progressing; Appeal in Mail Next Week

Plans have been definitely outlined for Narberth's observance of Independence Day and it is said that an appeal for the necessary funds will be mailed throughout the Borough and its vicinity during the coming week.

The local celebration has always attracted thousands of spectators from the city and adjoining countryside and, under the direction of the American Legion, it is expected that this year's program will be of greater proportions than heretofore.

As in past years, all donations to the fund will be published in Our Town. James L. McCrory, of the Narberth National Bank, is the treasurer, and contributions may also be left with any of the merchants.

No house-to-house canvass for Fourth of July expenses has been made in Narberth for five years, despite the fact that the expenditures here for the patriotic occasion are said to far exceed those made by any other community in the Philadelphia area.

Next Week's Games

Two interesting games are scheduled for the Narberth nine next week. The high point is the Hilldale game, with the dark-complexioned team said to be better than ever this year.

MRS. ELIZABETH R. OLIVER

Funeral services were held on Friday afternoon, June 5, at St. John's Church, Cynwyd, for Mrs. Elizabeth R. Oliver, widow of Alfred Oliver, wool manufacturer, and daughter of the late Thomas Garret Lodge and Susan Evans Lodge. Mrs. Oliver died at her home, 405 State Road, on Wednesday, June 3, after an illness of five days.

Mrs. Oliver, the oldest descendant of the original settlers of the present Lower Merion, had lived in that tract all of her life. Her mother's ancestors came from England with the other settlers in 1682. The ship "Lyon" came up the Schuylkill to what is now Pencoyd, leaving these settlers to locate the tracts they had purchased from Penn in 1681. During this time they made the ship their headquarters until each tract had been established.

The tract of Mrs. Oliver's ancestors consisted of about a thousand acres in what is now Cynwyd. The old homestead is still standing on the location of this first shelter.

Mrs. Oliver is survived by a daughter, Mrs. S. H. Croft; a son, A. Lodge Oliver, and a sister, Mrs. George I. Magee, all residents of Cynwyd.

Health Report

Twenty-five cases of chickenpox and the same number of measles head the report of Health Officer Marvin E. Reynolds, of the Lower Merion Board of Health, for the week ending June 5. Other cases are: German measles, 1; mumps, 4; pneumonia, 1; scarlet fever, 2 (both in Cynwyd), and whooping cough, 2.

tracts, $49,990, is within the amount which the board expected to expend on the alteration work. It is expected that work will begin immediately so that the building will be ready in the fall. The lowest bids were accepted in each case.

The Homan Company is the firm which is building the new Oakmont School in Haverford Township.

Among the improvements to be made in the building are the installation of a new unit heating system, a new auditorium, new classrooms and complete modernization throughout the old building.

The firm of Boyd, Abel & Gugert, of Philadelphia, are the architects, of which Victor D. Abel is a Narberth resident.

The work will be financed by a $55,000 bond issue, which was recently placed on the market and on which a substantial premium was gained by the School District.

The contractors have been instructed by the School Board to utilize local labor insofar as is possible.

Bonding for the contract was awarded to W. D. R. Evans and Durbin & Howard.

Gladwyne Community Club and Library Fills Vital Need in Community's Life

Beautifying Gladwyne and bettering its conditions in every way possible is the object of the Gladwyne Community Club and Free Library which was organized last September.

One of the most attractive communities on the Main Line, the club hopes to make it one of the best in the section. More and more residents of the community are beginning to appreciate that measures of benefit to the whole of the community can be achieved through its efforts.

George P. Nellings, its president, has furthered the interest of the club in a remarkable way and through his executive ability has established it as a vital necessity and an organization with a real purpose. Through the club he has enabled the residents of Gladwyne to take up for consideration every question bearing on any civic improvement. There is a Free Library of which

Mrs. Stuart Bell is librarian composed of over two thousand volumes. During the winter there has been a constant increase in the use of the library and a steady demand for books and magazines of the better type. This has filled a very great need.

The Community Club and Library is very fortunate in having a club house available, the use of which is given through the courtesy of All Saints Church, Wynnewood. The club house is fitted up with spacious assembly hall which may be used for dances, card parties, etc., and furthermore it is fully equipped with a kitchen, business room and rooms for shuffleboard as well as a large room for the use of the library. This building is in charge of Stuart Bell, secretary of the club, who stands ready to extend the privileges of the club house to any resident or group from Gladwyne that may desire them.

Campbell Hits Homer in L. M.'s Win Over U. Darby

Lower Merion pulled the expected last Friday at Upper Darby by giving Coach Lew Goas' smart ball club a real beating by the score of 7 to 5. That score does not sound like a trouncing, but it was just that, for Lower Merion earned every hard run that she made, while Johnny Brennan took things too easy in the eighth inning and gave the opposition the opportunity for three or four of theirs.

There were many interesting angles to the game, including the pitching of Bink Odiorne, the fielding of Seaver Rose, the heavy hitting of Soup Campbell, Lefty Thomas, Linny McCoy and others, and the heavy-duty coaching of Bill Anderson.

Odiorne pitched another heady ball game. He allowed a few hits, but they were well scattered until the eighth inning. Rose did some nifty bending at first base to make it easy for the infielders to throw in his direction. Soup Campbell connected with a right hander's toss to crash one over the center fielder's dome for a much-needed home run with two members on base. This gave the home clan a working margin of 6 to 1.

We were a bit dubious of the smiles on the Lower Merion faces as they went out for the last half of the eighth, but they were soon erased as a bit of slouchy fielding pepped the opposition and they scored three runs in rapid succession. Soup Campbell relieved Odiorne, who had tired at this juncture and succeeded in putting a stop to the parade in time.

Buek, Sigel Take Firsts as Maroon Cops Track Title

Adam's boys, wearing the Maroon and White, again outdistanced other high schools in the suburban area of Philadelphia and as far west as Lancaster, at Norristown last Saturday, and by scoring 35 points they became the kings of track and field in this section of our geography.

Buek and Sigel were the only first place winners, the former coming in ahead of a fast field in the 880 in the nice time of 2 minutes 73.5 seconds. Dick Sigel hurled the discus 117 feet to win. Jim Turner collected two second places in field events. Adam's relay team managed to take third place, a disappointing feature to some. Joe Leidy came through to win third place in the pole vault, and in the absence of Dave Ridge, his points helped the team to a victory. Pennypacker tied for fourth place with Trout, of Norristown.

The Maroon has had an interesting and successful track season. Winners of all dual meets with the exception of the West Catholic event, runnersup to the State champions, champions of District No. 1, not a bad season at all, even for a school where winners are the usual thing.

Praises Aydelotte. High tribute to the work of Dr. Frank Aydelotte, president of Swarthmore College, was paid by Dr. Marion Edwards Park, president of Bryn Mawr College, at Swarthmore's alumni luncheon last Saturday.

Chester Blasts Lower Merion's Baseball Hopes

Chester High won the final game of the Suburban baseball season from Bill Anderson's Maroon team Tuesday at Chester by the score of 14 to 11.

Lower Merion was erratic in the later innings and wasted a 6-to-1 advantage which they held in the fifth inning. All of Lower Merion's pitchers were hit hard and the ground balls were getting away from the slow-moving infielders.

This loss eliminates Lower Merion from a chance at the championship.

Wind High Sunday

During Sunday night's storm on the Main Line a wind velocity of 30 miles per hour was reached. Weather Observer Charles Decker, of Narberth, reports. High temperature of 87 was reached on Sunday with a drop to 78 on Monday. Lowest reading of the week was 50 on the 3d. One and twenty-four one hundredths inches of rain fell Sunday night.

The three F's. Fairness, fitness and faithfulness are the three qualifications with which the game of life must be played, said the Rev. Edmund Grindal Rawson, in the baccalaureate sermon at Lower Merion High School last Sunday night. Dr. Rawson, who is pastor of the Ardmore Presbyterian Church, told the audience of over 500 that he had preached the first baccalaureate sermon ever preached before a Lower Merion graduating class eighteen years ago.

Council Writes Finis

To many residents the action of Council in killing the amendment in the revised Zoning Ordinance providing a business district on Montgomery Avenue may seem arbitrary and unjustified. It should be borne in mind, however, that placing the amendment in the new ordinance and passing it on first reading did not commit Council to adopting it. Many bills appear on first reading which in their final state are totally different. It is necessary to pass it once to get before Council for consideration.

The chief reason for striking out the amendment relating to Montgomery Avenue, as stated by various Councilmen, is that Council does not feel that the time is ripe for the creation of an additional business district on Montgomery Avenue. While several members of Council are in sympathy with residents of the section who, through the zoning restrictions are prevented from disposing of their properties advantageously for business purposes, they feel that the consequent results to the borough as a whole would be detrimental and that few property owners would profit thereby.

The only reason there was no official vote in Council on the matter Monday night was due to the fact that Council was resolved into a committee of the whole to consider the amendments, to prevent the minutes from becoming clogged with motions to amend this and strike out that, etc. Had the lateness of the hour not interfered, the ordinance, as amended in committee, would have been passed on second and third readings and thus finally adopted. As it is, this will have to hold over until the July meeting.

Thus the matter which has been the principal bone of contention for the past several months is practically settled, for the time being at least.

If there are property owners who feel that this action is unfair, there is still a means of bringing about a change. Councilmen are the elected representatives of the people, and insofar as they are able, interpret the wishes of their constituents into action. Three of Narberth's Councilmen will be up for re-election next fall. If the group desiring to make Montgomery Avenue a business district see fit, they can select a candidate or candidates for Council on such a platform, and with sufficient support elect him, or them.

Should the matter be presented to the voters in the fall in this fashion and a sufficient number of people indicate their support for this proposition by voting for such a candidate, or candidates other members of Council are bound to be influenced by the public sentiment thus expressed.

Concerning Education

From Main Line schools, from colleges here and afar, graduation exercises are marking the Commencement for hundreds of local youth. Commencement, meaning beginning, has different applications.

For instance, to the Junior High School graduate, it means the commencement of Senior life, with its social activities, athletic and honors surpassing those of the school he is leaving. To the High School diploma winner, it means the commencement either of a cherished college course, or of a job.

And to the college man still another meaning is presented. For commencement in that case means either the beginning of adult education, or the beginning of intellectual stagnation. And that is no joke. It is pathetic to watch the educational effort of twelve or sixteen years falling away before an office desk or in the stupid conversation of the bridge table.

The graduate, whether it be of high school or of college, should consider his learning days just ahead. We were too busy in school making grades to learn much, but perhaps we did learn how to look things up. So, with diploma under arm, and confusion under the skull, let the graduate follow this motto for his future education:

"Read widely, listen intelligently, observe acutely—and what you don't know, look up!"

Neighbors in Distress

The Main Line Federation of Churches, which has been providing help to 314 families of the section, is in desperate need of assistance. Unless friends come to the rescue, it will be unable to continue its relief work very shortly.

Local Movies

Narberth Theatre Notes

Charles Chaplin's humorous "City Lights" is at the Narberth playhouse this Friday and Saturday. A drama well worth seeing, with an unobtrusive and pleasing sound accompaniment. (Hollywood's greatest artist does not believe in "talkies," you know.)

Marlene Dietrich and Victor McLaglen star under von Sternberg's ultra-remarkable direction in "Dishonored," the story of war-time spies in Vienna and Russia, playing at Narberth next Monday and Tuesday. Clever photography and acting and an exciting story, suffering a bit from being censored.

"Finger Points," which is due at Narberth next Wednesday and Thursday, gives Richard Barthelmess an opportunity for good acting. The title gives an idea of the plot.

El Brendel is coming to the borough next Friday and Saturday in "Mr. Lemon of Orange," another of his funny characterizations.

At the Egyptian

"The Royal Family of Broadway," which is at Cynwyd's theatre this week-end, is Edna Ferber's and George Kaufman's stage success, in which the stage's royal family is amusingly burlesqued. The movie's cast includes Frederic March and Ina Claire. Also at the Egyptian this Friday and Saturday nights at 9 P. M. is a stage attraction, "Dauntless," one of the screen's most famous dogs, who appeared in "Under the Black Eagle," "The Thirteenth Hour," "Two Arabian Knights," etc. The German police dog will give a demonstration of his intelligence. He does not work by routine, but obeys commands given by his master. He will appear at the evening performance both nights and also at the Saturday matinee, when the feature will be the air-war picture, "Sky Hawk."

At the Egyptian next Monday and Tuesday will be a new, more amusing, more interesting vehicle for Lawrence Tibbett, operatic baritone, "The Prodigal" includes in its cast Esther Ralston and Cliff ("Ukelele Ike") Edwards.

Not recommended for children is "Unfaithful," in which Ruth Chatterton will appear at the Egyptian next Wednesday and Thursday. Paul Lukas aids in a dramatic performance that will appeal to Chatterton fans.

Not like Percy Crosby's daily cartoon is "Skippy," which will amuse and entertain young and old at the Egyptian next week-end. "Skippy," of whom Charles Dana Gibson said, "He is one of the truest, most thoroughly sympathetic characters I have ever known," is a story written especially by Mr. Crosby for the cinema, with additional dialogue by Don Marquis and directed by Norman Taurog. Its cast includes Robert Coogan, Jackie Cooper, Mitzi Green and Jackie Searl. A dramatic comedy, its pathos and humor, dialogue and pantomime, plot and photography have already appealed to thousands of grown-ups as well as children. Considered by leading critics as one of the two best talking pictures yet released.

Summer School to Be Conducted Here Again

A summer school will be conducted again in the Narberth Public School this year in co-operation with advanced students in the School of Education at the University of Pennsylvania under the supervision of Principal W. James Drennan.

It will open on July 6, which is also the opening date for the Community Playground. Due to the alterations to be made in the old school building, there will be no playground activities on the school playground this summer, all of the work being concentrated at the Community Playground.

In the Theater

A metropolitan "Jane" is caught in the vortex of modern New York in Francis Faragoh's "Pinwheel," which plays at the Hedgerow Theatre next Thursday night. Unlike the Cinderella of musical comedy and the Pollyanna of the drama, Faragoh's "little girl in the big city" finds that one man is like another.

Departing from its customary procedure of playing "Inheritors" on Memorial Day and the 4th of July only, Hedgerow will give a performance of the Susan Glaspell play of wrenched ideals on Tuesday evening, with Frances Torchiana and Jasper Deeter in the leading roles. Wednesday night's show will be Eugene O'Neill's satire of family self-sufficiency, "The First Man," in which William Price and Dudley Vaughan will be seen heading the cast. Harry Bellaver and Cele McLaughlin play the leads in Lynn Riggs' new galloping comedy, "Roadside," which will be given on next Friday night and at tomorrow's matinee.

Following the newly-inaugurated policy there will be two plays on Saturday, next week. Syng's masterpiece of Irish life, "The Playboy of the Western World," for the afternoon and Shaw's study of Colonial hysteria, "The Devil's Disciple," for the night performance. Tonight's presentation is the Italian farce comedy, "The Mask and the Face," and tomorrow night's

The scholarship pays $500 per year and is awarded on the Cecil Rhodes plan, based on the best record, in sports as well as scholastic ability.

Cecelia (Babe) Bowes, of Cynwyd, lost for the second year in the finals of the girls' Philadelphia and district championship last Friday to Mary Mattson, of Germantown, in three closely-contested sets. The score: 3-6, 7-5, 6-4. Down 5-2 in the second set, "Babe" pulled even at 5 all before succumbing to her opponent. An analysis of the game and point score shows the closeness of the match. Miss Mattson won 16 games in the match to Miss Bowes' 15, while Miss Bowes topped her opponent in total point score, 111 to 108.

Montg. Business District Stricken from Ordinance

a fourth business district on Montgomery Avenue from Narberth to Haverford Avenue. A public hearing on the revised ordinance, as is required by the Borough Code, was then set for May 1. At this meeting most of the discussion centered around the depth of setbacks which would be necessary to allow ample parking space along the pike for the new business district. Restrictions were also placed upon the type of business building to be erected in order to bar unsightly or objectionable developments.

At this public hearing a petition was received requesting the inclusion of Windsor Avenue and the extension of the side streets to Windsor in the Haverford Avenue business district. A public hearing on this second petition was held last Thursday night at which a petition, bearing thirty-four signatures, was filed protesting against the extension of the Haverford Avenue business district.

While the ordinance will not come up for official action until the next meeting of Council on July 13, there is little chance that any further change will be made following Monday night's action. It must still be passed on second and third readings, but it is now in the form which is satisfactory to the majority of Council, incorporating minor amendments to the original ordinance.

Highway Report Devoted to Routine Matters

The report of the Highway and Sewer Committee of the Narberth Borough Council as presented by its chairman, Robert F. Wood, at the meeting on Monday night is as follows:

"Because of the reduced budget under which we are operating this year, the activities of the Highway Department for the month of May were confined almost exclusively to routine matters. Effective June 1 we have put six of the borough laborers on part time because full-time work is no longer available for them.

"The total expenditures of the Highway Department, during the month of May, were $1350, of which the largest item was $921.96, which was the cost of collecting 1071 cubic yards of ashes and rubbish. This included a special collection of Clean-up Week; 214 cubic yards of ashes and rubbish were disposed of during Clean-up Week.

"Other items of expenditure during the month of May were $45.36 for labor and $50 for fertilizer for use around the trees and shrubbery of the playground. It is our understanding that the $50 for fertilizer is to be charged to the account of the Shade Tree Commission. During the month of May we also made a new sewer connection for Mr. Howard Cotter which was paid for by Mr. Cotter. Minor items of expense during the month were $62.10 for street maintenance; $7.20 for rolling Narbrook Park; $7.20 for repairing the policemen's bicycles; $12.24 for sidewalk repairs in front of the fire station and $14.40 labor cost for operating the steam roller two days on a rental basis."

MAKE WAY FOR THE NEW

We are demolishing the old wooden warehouse on our premises which has long been a land mark to commuters who could view it from the station platform.

With the additional storage space thus made available, we will be able to store a much larger supply of coal and to handle more efficiently the constantly growing demand for Jeddo-Highland Coal, which, by virtue of its uniformly high quality, brings us more new customers each year.

blom, captain, and Lucky Nine, Juniors, Henry Cantagalli, captain.

The Junior League will function on Monday and Wednesday and Friday at 11 A. M. while the Seniors play on the same days at 1:30 P. M.

The older girls' volley ball league will be organized during the first week and due to the great interest shown in this activity last year it is hoped to form a six-team league instead of four teams.

Included in the program this year are pole vaulting and high jumping, two field activities that are always interesting. There will also be soccer games, an activity which the school boys never seem to tire of playing. Every Tuesday a period will be devoted to tumbling and pyramids.

At 4:15 every afternoon the hydrant shower will be turned on for a period of fifteen minutes.

Handiwork activities will include aeroplane building (flying models), leather project work, raffia and reed weaving, artistic coloring of vases, pencils, etc., yarn projects, bead stringing and coping saw modeling.

All tournaments will be held on Thursday afternoons; and there will be a different tournament every week commencing Thursday, July 9, with a quoit tournament for Juniors and Seniors. Watch the bulletin board for announcement of tournaments and special events. Boys and girls' tennis teams will be formed, made up of the six best players in each group. ## 'Time Out'

By TOMMY MACKLIN

Lower Merion had another championship ready for the shelf down at Chester Tuesday, but could not keep the lump down long enough to stop some of the Chester ground balls, and the old game went the way of the war, looking from the German side.

Coach Bill used four pitchers, and then started over again, but none of it did any good.

Chester accepted the ball game from the Maroon with gratitude for they knew they were winning from the strongest team in the league, and in that particular, Chester is a smart club.

The ball ground in Chester resembles the one Upper Darby used to play on before they built their present athletic field. When the farmers were not using it for a corn field and the ash boys for a dumping ground, the high school boys could have it for a ball diamond.

When an infielder bent over for a ground ball he lost his balance and fell into one of the ditches and had to be bailed out.

The high grass in the outfield will be cut for hay next week for the horses to feed on next winter.

It was a wierd ball game, one that would make A. G. Spaulding, papa of the national pastime, turn over in his grave and weep bitterly.

At the opening of the league season this column stated that Norristown looked to be the strongest team in the league. As the league season closes we must admit we were almost right.

Norristown won the championship, but we believe they are not quiet the class of the league.

Lower Merion should have won both of their games from the County Seat boys, and they easily outplayed them in both encounters.

The entire league was evenly balanced and Haverford showed more power with the stick than any of them. If they were smart as a club none of the other teams would have been able to stop them.

The fireworks are over for the season, and the little Ty Cobbs of the Maroon put away their uniforms for the moths to get to until next spring when a new squad of hopefuls will line up for Coach Bill Anderson to look over with a prayer in his heart and a couple of cuss words pending.

Next week we will present you our All-Suburban baseball team and also list for you a compilation of the most outstanding all-around athletes of Lower Merion High School in the past nine years.

We will endeavor to list them in the order of their ability, but of course it will be a matter of opinion, and you have the right to differ with it.

Now for our diplomas, please.

Borough Nine Drops Another to Bryn Mawr

ficulty in slamming the offerings of Dick Kent for seventeen blows and who also received considerable aid from the ragged fielding of the borough players. Kent's ineffective pitching against the Main Line League batters, which has been apparent in earlier games, was even more clearly demonstrated last Saturday and it is the opinion of this writer that Manager Davis will have to secure a sturdier hurler if he wishes to make any effective showing against hard-hitting teams like Bryn Mawr and Paoli.

Bryn Mawr got off to a flying start when Johnny Highfield, the lead-off man, smacked out a clean single to right to start the game. This was followed by Gazella's double and singles by Harkins, Doyle and Curvan, so that when Kent finally ended the inning by fanning Hammond three runs had crossed the plate. The slugging Redmen added a run in the second, two in the fifth and another in the sixth. Meanwhile Narberth had been pecking away fairly effectively at Townsend's slow curves. In the third Rubican pounded a mighty triple down the right-field foul line, scoring Kent, who had received a base on balls. In the fourth frame they added another on Humphries' walk, which was followed by sharp singles from the bats of Harris and Gilfillan. The sixth, however, was Narberth's big inning as Harris, Bob Martin and Slaughter came through with one-basers and Bob Gilfillan poled a long one between Highfield and Curvan for three bases, all of which assisted in adding three more runs to the borough boys' total. Following this heartening inning the Davismen added another counter in the seventh when Rubican made his second hit, a clean single to centre, and, after Fleck fanned, Harvey Humphries caught one on the end of his bat and lifted it into Windsor Avenue for a splendid two-bagger, scoring Rubican and bringing Narberth only one run behind the visitors.

At this point Narberth's hopes of victory were high, but the pesky Redmen dashed them rudely to the ground in their half of the eighth. After two were out in this inning Humphries fumbled Morgan's grounder, allowing the visitors' shortstop to reach first. Kent then slipped two strikes over on Harkins and then gave him four straight balls, putting two on the sacks. Up stepped Bobby Doyle, former Berwyn star, and hammered one of Kent's pitches for a long drive to deep left-field for a home run and the visitors gained a commanding lead which Townsend easily defended. Fleck apparently misjudged this hit, as he ran in and then out in attempting to field it, but it was extremely hard hit ball and there is considerable doubt if the veteran outfielder would have been able to grasp it, even if he had cut straight across left-field to head it off.

Narberth Beats 24th Ward 6-2 on Monday

By DAVE CASEY

Narberth had little trouble conquering 24th Ward of Philadelphia by a score of 6-2 in a twilight game played last Monday night at the playground. Bill Reynolds pitched masterful ball for the Davismen, holding the city boys to five hits and fanning eight of them. The hitting of Rubican, Slaughter and Martin for our boys, and the fast fielding of Devinoff, the visitors' shortstop, were the features of the game.

Charming rock garden planted on a natural slope from terrace to driveway at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Tily, 2d, Cynwyd.

Garden of Mrs. Harry Tily, of Cynwyd, Is Fine Example of Good Planning

That a wall garden can be charming and brilliant was my firm conviction recently after seeing the very lovely one of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Tily, 2d, of 32 Overhill Road, Cynwyd. The wall, which forms a medium-sized terrace at the rear of the house, is three feet high and sixty feet long. Here have been placed plants which make the wall a delight to the eye, especially from the middle of April until the middle of May, when it is at its best, though, as Mrs. Tily said, it is always interesting to watch, even when there are no blooming plants, for on looking down the wall with the sun shining on it, at least nine different shades of green appear there. These range from gray-green to a very deep tone.

Phlox—four different kinds are planted—and with basket of gold are brilliant in their blooms. Iceland poppy, hen and chickens, veronica, dianthus, helianthemum, are all there, as are a number of other plants. A stunning santalacea which is covered with yellow blossoms in July dominates one portion of the wall. Crushed in the hand, its leaves impart a pleasing fragrance which reminds one slightly of cedar. This plant, which is large and thriving, represents an initial outlay of thirty-five cents!

On a slope at one end of the terrace is a charming rock garden. Here one sees what may be effectively done with a space, 20 by 20 feet. Good planning is the delightful result shown in the accompanying picture. Of course, the slope is natural, and this fact adds to the attractiveness of the spot. Here have been planted narcissus, iris cristata, coral bell, dianthus deltoideus, saxifrage, lilies of the valley, rhododendron, scilla, anchusa, oxalis, violets, columbines which were raised from seed; cedum, tulipa clusia, armaria, heather, catoneaster, juniper stricta, santalacea, primulas, alyssum saxatile and phlox subulata.

The rock garden, which has a southeastern exposure, makes a charming approach to the terrace, which has a row of box marking the top of the wall. On this terrace, sturdy garden furniture and trellises against the house make it a most inviting spot. At the foot of the wall a narrow bed containing pansies and bachelor buttons catches the seeds that fall from the plants growing in the wall and form a miniature garden nursery. Stretching away from the wall is a green lawn with a rose bed at one side and beyond that—at the side—is a perennial garden with two long beds dominating its formal design. Here in the spring are the flowering bulbs, with Japanese flowering cherry to add to the glory of the blossoms. Planted in these beds, among other things, are lilies of several varieties, iris Germanica, Siberian and Japanese; delphinium, which have been raised from seed brought from England, and chrysanthemums, which are gorgeous in the fall.

Very lovely effects have been gotten in the whole which, including the house, covers 100 by 185 feet, for there is a wall garden, a rock garden, a perennial garden, a rose bed and plenty of green lawn, with restrained planting of flowering shrubs and evergreens, showing what may be accomplished by proper and interested planning and planting. M. M.

Timely Notes for the Main Line Garden Lover

BY ROBERT J. EDGAR

If you object to the foliage of narcissi do not cut it off but tie a bow-knot in the leaves. They will ripen the bulbs just as well and may soon be covered over with shallow rooting annuals.

The Massey dust formula of nine parts fine dusting sulphur and one part arsenate of lead powder is still the best known control for black spot and mildew on roses. The seedsman can furnish this mixture with a green color which is not as unsightly on the foliage. For best results blow the powder on the under side of the leaves when they are still wet with dew—early in the morning. The arsenate of lead is effective in controlling leaf-eating insects. For aphids we must spray with pyrethrum-soap or nicotine-soap.

Do not cultivate rose beds deeply. Roses root near the surface and are better fed during the growing season with liquid manure.

When tulip stems can be lifted gently from the bulb they may be considered ripe.

After delphiniums have flowered cut the stem to prevent seeding but do not cut close to the ground; leave a few leaves to carry on until new shoots show. A second flowering, or even a third, may be expected if the soil has been well prepared and ample water is available.

A real choice evergreen shrub for the rock garden or on top a wall is Berberis Verruculosa. Little glossy leaves like holly in form but white underneath, these leaves turn to brilliant red and bronzy shades in autumn and little gray berries will be found hanging on the spiny stems. The flowers in May are like little yellow roses. Slow growing but interesting every month in the year.

As a soil conditioner for rhododendrons and laurel sprinkle aluminum sulphate on the ground, a teaspoonful to the square foot, and repeat a month later. And water it in well. Many "rhodys" look a bit sad after the drought of last summer and need watchful care. They like tree food, not too deep, and for an extra tonic make the ground yellow with cottonseed meal and water it in.

Watch home-made mixtures in combining spray materials. Some mixtures will cause injurious burning. Do not mix soap with arsenate of lead. Do not mix nicotine or soap with coated, or oleate, arsenate of lead. Do not spray peach, plum or cherry trees with a strong mixture of arsenate of lead, the same goes for the flowering varieties.

Paul's Lemon Pillar turned out to be a "lemon" as a yellow rose. The color is ivory-white.

Chaplin's Pink Climber should be spelled "punk," not pink; it has that mean magenta cast. Forced in the greenhouse it is pretty but in the garden we have corrected the spelling.

Mary Wallace is still the queen of all climbing roses and she is not a rampant climber, that delicious pink that we all have in our mind's eye but very seldom see in the garden.

Exhibits Crowd Every Corner of Bala-Cynwyd Woman's Club at Annual Flower Show

Friday, June 5, was the day and the place was the Woman's Club Building in Bala-Cynwyd. Just about 100 members of the Garden Club of Bala-Cynwyd had been planning and working for many months, preparing for the annual display of flowers from neighboring gardens.

And did the flowers arrive? They came in every kind and color mentioned on the schedule of 57 classes and almost 900 cards were used in making entries.

While the flower show was the largest and best of its kind ever held in this section, the classes for school children were the most interesting and were in such numbers that it was necessary to exhibit them in the basement of the building, where they filled the entire space.

The Garden Club realizes that the gardeners and naturalists of the next 10 to 15 years are the children of today and that they must be encouraged and educated in school and at home.

The sweepstake prize, carrying the silver cup, was captured by Mrs. E. M. Lyons, who won 30 points in all classes. Mrs. Lyons' exhibit of a collection of garden flowers was given the popular award by those who visited the show.

Mrs. M. A. Laverty won the runner-up prize of a bronze medal from the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society with 24 points in all classes and also the bronze medal of the American Rose Society for her roses.

Mrs. A. E. Clattenburg won the President's Prize for scoring 22 points in all classes.

Among the other big winners were Mrs. T. H. Lewis, of Paoli, 21 points; Mrs. Walter Bailey, 18 points; Mrs.

And speaking of climbing roses the best of them are the pillar roses that go about ten to twelve feet, just right for an arbor. The old Dorothy Perkins type is fast losing favor, she goes too fast, too weak and too mildewy. And too difficult to cut back properly.

The beetles will soon be working. Cheerful news!

Harry C. Tily, 16 points; Mrs. W. K. Myers, 16 points, and Mrs. Arthur Goldsmith, of Wynnewood, 16 points.

Mr. L. Bert Oyster won 11 points; Mrs. Frank Seeburger, 10 points; Mrs. H. W. Bieber 9 points; Mrs. E. C. Jacoby, of Gulph Mills, 8 points; Mrs. Harris Comer 8 points, and Mrs. H. G. Hurd 8 points.

In the class for men only, E. C. Shinn was the winner.

Mrs. Leigh Huff was awarded the prize for the best miniature picture.

The dinner table prize went to Mrs. Harry C. Tily, 2d, President-elect.

Children's Classes.

The posters made by students in grade schools were unusually good and showed much real talent as well as fine training and guidance from their teachers.

The prize winners from Cynwyd School were: Kenneth Patrick, first; Mary Williams, second, and Jacqueline Link, third.

Bala School: Geraldine Murphy, first; Catherine Hart, second, and Marion Goldrich, third.

Ashland School: Anna Toti, first; Florence Elia, second, and Alberta Jacobs, third.

For an arrangement of garden flowers, Nancy Tily won the blue ribbon, Charles Heath second, and Clare Scheidt, third.

For a collection and arrangement of wild flowers, Kathryn Hammer won the blue, while Alberta Jacobs won second and a special prize. Coleman Tily was third.

Miniature gardens proved a popular class and ingenuity vied with art in the many entries. Ted White won first prize, Anna Rosetti, of Ashland, was second and Coleman Tily third.

The best wren house was built by Richard Smith, the next by Francis

Harrison, Jr., and third prize went to Ted White.

George Ciersiniski, of Ashland, built the best flicker house.

The feeding stations were not so good. Mrs. Griscom gave a second prize to Ambrose Priestly, and a third to Merrill Carr.

Mr. Bronson learned many fine points in bird house building from Mrs. Griscom and our boys will have them perfect for next year.

Cynwyd Woman's Roses Win Prize at Trevoise

Mrs. M. Alex Laverty, of Derwen Road, Cynwyd, was awarded the silver medal for the best 10 hybrid tea roses at the spring flower show held at Trevoise under auspices of the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society. Competition was keen and roses from many of the finest gardens about Philadelphia were shown.

The Garden Club of Bala-Cynwyd and Mrs. Laverty are to be congratulated. Interest in gardens and gardening has grown mightily in our community since the organization of the garden club about seven years ago and Bala-Cynwyd has already been called the Garden Center of the Main Line.

Juniors Defeat Redner on Tuesday, 6 to 4

Last Tuesday evening at the Narberth Playground, Fred Walzer's boys took over the Redner A. C. to the tune of 6-4.

Humphries, the versatile star of the Juniors, led the club in hitting, batting .750 for the evening. J. Strickler, second baseman for the visitors, led his club with three hits out of the same number of chances. The Juniors gathered two runs in the second, two in the sixth and two in the seventh, while Casey held the city visitors to a shutout up to the eighth, retiring nine by the strikeout route. In the ninth, however, the visitors got on to Casey's delivery and socked him for five singles in a row, scoring four runs. During this rally the Redner boys became excited and edged towards the foul line in order to rattle Casey. Catcher Humphries, of Narberth, resenting their tactics, took a punch at Joyce, Redner's right fielder, and a brief scuffle ensued. No harm was done, however, as order was quickly restored by Manager Walzer and Officer Brady Utz.

After the battle had faded away the Juniors quickly pulled together and retired the next three batters and came out on top, 6-4.

Notes of the Game

"Windy" Finnan, holdout announcer, was again at his old post. Wearing a glaring red cap, the bass-voiced prodigy again delighted the fans with his bellowing bulletins.

Barney Slaughter, a former Penn star, appeared in center for the locals and made a good impression with his efficient corraling of difficult flies.

On account of the absence of Herb Baker, Joe Rubican, star infielder of the Narberth Firemen, appeared at second and played a bangup fielding game, beside crashing a triple and a single.

Jim Faulk's fielding was the high light of the visitors' play, the star second baseman handling eight chances without an error.

Local fans were pleased to see Bob Gilfillan snap out of his batting slump. The rangy shortstop crashed a triple and a single and was robbed of another hit by a splendid stop by Morgan, the Bryn Mawr shortstop.

Oakmont will be the opponent this Saturday and the Narberth boys hope to avenge the defeat of Memorial Day by trouncing Wyc Justis' men. With more effective pitching they may do so. Let's hope for the best

Many Plays and Dramatic Literature at Library

Now that the theatre season is over dramatic critics are employing their time in listing the plays of the past winter in the order of their popularity, of their merit, of their first performances, of their actor-contributions, or of what may be. It makes interesting reading, but far from as satisfactory as one's own reading of the play itself, whether or not one has seen the performance. Reading the text of the play is a good method also for compensating oneself for missing the play or for preparing for next winter's production.

For plays of the season past there is the anthology of Burns Mantle in which are given generous excerpts from all the outstanding plays of the season with very good critical material in addition. To be an courtant with the plays of next winter in Philadelphia it would be well to read "Allison's House," by Susan Glaspell, already popular because of the Pulitzer award, and "Brass Ankles," by DuBose Heyward, whose "Porgy" is still well remembered, not omitting "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" and the "Apple Cart."

And while on the subject of plays the Library wishes to announce that it has a steadily increasing collection of books on amateur dramatics, the most complete being "Producing Your Own Plays," by Mary W. Russell, M. A., a book which begins with the function of a director and discusses all the problems which arise in putting on a play. A very helpful chapter embodies suggestions for making inexpensive substitutes for costume scenery and equipment. These books, if not readily located by the potential reader, may be inquired for at the desk.

Rotarians Told of Antique Collecting

Modern textiles dragged through mud and splattered with acids; wood burned with hot irons; cloth stained with coffee—thus are antiques made in many cases, according to Lloyd Eastwood-Seibold, speaking before the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club.

Mr. Seibold, associated with the Rosenbach Galleries, will be remembered by many local residents as the master of the great Narberth Historical Pageant held in 1914.

The speaker gave many interesting sidelights of the business of collecting and selling antiques, together with the devious methods of faking antiques and selling them. Methods of interior decorating were also dwelt upon.

"A modern reproduction of a fine antique is to be preferred to an artistically poor, but genuine, antique," Mr. Seibold said. "While many fine examples of craftsmanship were produced in the seventeenth and notably in the eighteenth centuries, those periods also produced many poor pieces of work."

The speaker was introduced by Raymond L. Watrous.
